Eisenhowers And Grandchildren Arrive At Farm This Morning To Spend Weekend; To Rejoin Alert

President Eisenhower left his Civil Defense evacuation "hide-away" early this morning and drove to his Gettysburg farm to spend the weekend before resuming participation in the nationwide alert Monday morning.

The President was accompanied by two of his grandchildren, David, 9, and Barbara, 8. They arrived at the farm at 8:40 o'clock. Shortly before 9 o'clock the President and his friend and neighbor, George Allen, were on the Gettysburg Country Club golf course. A short time later they were joined by General Arthur S. Nevins, another personal friend.

While the chief executive was playing golf David was practicing putting on the putting green at the club and Barbara was receiving driving instructions from Dick Slichter, golf pro. Later she joined her brother on the putting green.

Barbara's hair was put up in a pony tail. She wore a white blouse and khaki-colored tunic pants. David wore a summer cap, khaki trousers and a red v-neck sweater. Later this morning Mrs. Eisenhower and another grandchild, Susan, drove to the farm from their Friday night hideout.

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
EMERGENCY WHITE HOUSE. Operation Alert (B)—President Eisenhower's military aides today pronounced his "evacuation" from Washington by helicopter under imaginary wartime conditions a complete success.

They made that evaluation as the President arranged to pull out of the annual civil defense drill for the weekend. He will resume his participation Monday with a helicopter visit to another government relocation center.

Eisenhower, who flew to this secret command headquarters in a "whirlwind" yesterday afternoon, arranged an early morning departure by automobile for his farm at Gettysburg, Pa. The likely program there is golf later in the day and relaxation at his country home tomorrow.

To Visit Second Operation
Monday morning he will leave the farm by "copter" and get back to Washington in the early afternoon after visiting the secret operation alert headquarters of the Office of Defense Mobilization and the federal Civil Defense Administration.

For security reasons the location of this command post—to which the President might be evacuated in event of actual war—cannot be disclosed. It is within 200 miles of Washington.

Flying for the first time in his new helicopter, Eisenhower took off yesterday at 10 p.m. (EDT) from the White House south lawn. That was about an hour before a make-believe hydrogen bomb with the force of five million tons of TNT "wiped out" the heart of the nation's capital.

With Mamie, Grandchildren
With the President overnight at his command post in a wooded mountainous area were Mrs. Eisenhower and three of their four small grandchildren.

The youngsters — David, 9, Barbara Anne, 8, and Susan — traveled from Washington by automobile with their grandmother, and they planned to go on to the Gettysburg farm with the first lady sometime today after the President's departure. They are the children of Maj. and Mrs. John Eisenhower, who live in Alexandria, Va.

After receiving word at his mountain command center yesterday afternoon that Washington had been nearly "obliterated" and that various other big American cities had come under heavy mock attack, the President issued a make believe order putting the nation on an all-out emergency basis.

YOUNG MOTHER CRITICAL TODAY AFTER ACCIDENT

Mrs. Mary Bondurant, 19-year-old wife of Robert H. Bondurant, 265 Buford Ave., suffered a fractured skull, abrasions of the body and lacerations of the right leg Friday afternoon when a motorcycle she was driving and a truck collided on Buford Ave.

She was reported in a critical condition at the Warner Hospital today.

Borough police said the cycle was owned by her husband and that the young mother of a year-old boy had never driven the vehicle before.

Hit Pole Head First

A sudden whim apparently made her determine to operate the machine, police said they had learned. When she was unable to start the motorcycle she pushed it to a nearby service station and asked the attendant there to start the motor for her.

When the motor was running, she stepped aboard the machine and according to police headed directly into the street, into the path of a tractor trailer operated by Dewey LeRoy Brown, Front Royal, Va.

The officers said that when the truck struck the motorcycle, Mrs. Bondurant was hurled "as straight as an arrow" against a utility pole in front of the home of Francis Hemler on Buford Ave. The officers said witnesses told them that Mrs. Bondurant struck the utility pole head first.

Gettysburg firemen were summoned with their ambulance, but did not move the badly injured young woman until physician arrived. A physician arrived within moments and the trip to the hospital was made.

Mrs. Galloway, who spent her entire life in Gardner, was a member of the Idaville Evangelical Church. She resided for 19 years with Mrs. Farel Galloway. Her late husband, Howard D. Galloway, preceded his wife in death 27 years ago.

She is survived by a number of nieces and nephews, 16 grandchildren, 41 great-grandchildren and nine great-great-grandchildren.

Enormity Of Raid Catastrophe In Mock H-Bomb Attack Grows Hourly As CD Checks Results

NEWSPOINT. Operation Alert (B)—Hampered by hitches, delays and admitted foul-ups, the Civil Defense forces of Operation Alert 1957 struggled today against a make-believe nuclear holocaust. Its enormity grew by the hour.

The presumed "enemy" who swept across the North Pole yesterday with H-bombs to spare and super-sonic bombers to deliver them had "smashed" at least 133 vital U. S. targets.

An early-morning bulletin said "countless lives" were saved by nationwide Civil Defense measures. But tens of millions were lost, hypothetically speaking, and the ravages of airborne contamination were yet to be felt.

Too Early To Tell

"It is too early to tell whether the exercise is a success or flop," one official said. "The results will be trickling in for days."

"We've had painful delays in communications. But the real thing would be a lot slower." President Eisenhower, after a helicopter flight from a capital that was theoretically blasted soon after, was in safe "hiding." A mock national emergency was in force, and a rudimentary "war effort" was being patched together.

President Fastens Belt

Lions' Directors To Meet Monday

COUNTY COUPLE WED TODAY IN M'SHERRYSTOWN

Miss Janet Elizabeth Chronister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Chronister, East Berlin R. 2, was married at 9 o'clock this morning to Philip Francis Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Smith, 358 Main St., McSherrystown, at the Church of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary, McSherrystown. The Rev. Fr. Richard H. Hartnett officiated at the double-ring ceremony and Nuptial Mass.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown with a skirt of embroidered tulle enhanced by an underskirt of ruffles, the skirt ending in a flowering chapel train. The fitted bodice featured short shirred sleeves, a scooped neckline, and was trimmed with faint appliques, sequins and seed pearls. Her headpiece was a queen's crown of lace trimmed with seed pearls and sequins gathered to a finger tip veil and she carried a bouquet of white carnations with streaming feather carnations.

Two Attendants
Mrs. Rodney Neiderer, Hanover R. 4, was the maid-of-honor and Miss Sylvia Smith, McSherrystown. (Continued On Page 3)

ging and personal fitness. "The Scout leaders seem to know boys very well. They give us a menu, when we're cooks and on the menu it says 'Read full instructions twice before starting.' I figured they said that because they wanted us to read them once, so I did that."

"Thursday for lunch we had creamed chipped beef on toast, whole kernel corn, celery, bananas and milk. Thursday for supper we had jamboree mulligan, cabbage salad, bread, butter, pineapple chunks, cookies and milk. In the instructions they even tell us how many pots to use, and how to make each item."

Kingsize Problem

The Operation Alert planners, it became clear today, had handed the Civil Defense teams a kingsize problem. The total of theoretically flattened cities, it appeared might approach 200.

New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Los Angeles, Pittsburgh, Dallas and virtually all other major centers of industry and population were hypothetical dunes of ruin. A number of Air Force bases—including that of the Continental Air Command at Colorado Springs—were "destroyed."

CD ALERT TEST GOES OFF WELL; FOUR INCIDENTS MAR ACTIVITIES

Adams County's participation in "Operation Alert-1957," the Civil Defense Test held locally and nationally Friday, ranged "from good to excellent," County CD Director William G. Weaver reported to state headquarters Friday afternoon at the conclusion of the exercises.

Only four incidents marred the overall picture, and in two cases Weaver wired the state Council of Defense asking if prosecution should be brought against drivers who refused to obey directions of auxiliary police during the "take cover" period of the alert.

The two men who "gave our wardens a bad time" were both reported by McSherrystown Civil Defense officials. One is a resident of McSherrystown, the other of Hanover R. 4.

Awaits Council Directions

Weaver said he would abide by state council directions in the matter, whether or not to bring prosecution. In some other parts of the state men who failed to cooperate with the drill Friday were sent to jail for 30-day periods. Weaver said the question was one of degree of non-compliance.

Two trucks who moved through York Springs as the "take cover" signal was sounded were the only others reported as not complying with the test.

Several other cases of non-compliance were believed to have been caused by unfamiliarity with the test. Several persons who stopped cars when the siren sounded the "take cover" signal, resumed their travels after the auxiliary police took cover, apparently believing that the test was over when the auxiliary policemen left the street.

Police Activities

Weaver explained that auxiliary police are instructed to take cover during a raid and did so in compliance. (Continued On Page 3)

BUYS PROPERTY

Clair Shultz, Bendersville, bought the Huntington Twp. property three miles from York Springs along the Idaville Rd. which was sold Friday evening as part of the estate of Robert E. Paull, deceased. Shultz paid $2,800 for the one-acre property which is improved with a seven-room frame dwelling house. The sale was conducted by William R. Sunday, administrator of the estate. Clair Shultz was the auctioneer.

SAY EAST BERLIN MAY JOIN NEW JOINT DISTRICT

East Berlin may join the Bermudian Springs Joint School system Monday, it was learned today.

School officials said today members of the East Berlin school board met Monday night with representatives of the Bermudian Springs Joint School system at York Springs to discuss terms by which the East Berlin school system could join the Bermudian Springs system made up of York Springs, Latimore, Huntington and Reading school districts.

Word was received this week that both East Berlin and the Conewago Independent School system will attend a meeting at the York Springs High School at 8 o'clock Monday evening ready to sign formal applications to enter the Bermudian Springs joint system.

May Mean New HS

If the present plans are carried out Monday night, the action would resolve a critical condition in the school systems in the northern and eastern parts of the counties.

East Berlin had been a member of the Conewago Jointure which was dissolved by court order as of July 1.

Abbottstown, one of the members of the Conewago Jointure, entered the Lower Adams joint system. Reading Twp., also a member of the Conewago Jointure, entered the Bermudian System. East Berlin and Conewago Independent were originally hopeful of establishing one large joint system to include both Bermudian Springs and the Lower Adams system, according to their statements at meetings held with the county school board.

If the East Berlin and Conewago Independent systems join Bermudian Springs Monday it will probably eventually lead to construction of a high school in the Hampton area generally and conversion of the York Springs and East Berlin high school buildings to elementary centers.

HERE AND THERE

About 150 years ago, John James Audubon, the painter of the monumental "Birds of America," estimated that he saw two billion passenger pigeons at one time. They darkened the sky as they passed. The last passenger pigeon died in a mid-western zoo early in this century and the species is now extinct.

Less than one century ago, buffalo roamed the Western plains in vast herds. Now only a comparative handful are left. The giant whooping crane was once known in great numbers. Now only about 30 have been counted in the Florida sanctuary to which they migrate. (Continued On Page 2)

CHICAGO TORN BY RAIN AND WIND STORM

CHICAGO (AP)—Torrential rains, violent winds and lightning tore into Chicago and suburbs last night, flooding thousands of homes, blocking roads and ripping down power lines and trees.

At least one death was reported when a South Side man was electrocuted as he pumped out his flooded basement.

More than 30 persons were injured, none seriously, when gusty winds knocked down a tent theater on the Southwest Side during an evening performance. About 250 persons were watching a play when the canvas roof and supports came crashing down.

Police and fire stations received dozens of calls reporting minor explosions as rising waters covered basement heating equipment. Lightning struck several homes in northwest and southwest suburbs.

The downpour was only .08 of an inch short of the all-time Chicago rainfall record for a 24-hour period—let in 1885. By 1 a.m. today 6.11 inches of rain had fallen during the previous 24-hour period.

grate, and there is grave fear that this species may soon go the way of the passenger pigeon.

The tragedy is that we can destroy wildlife resources—destroy them relatively quickly. But we can bring them back from the brink of destruction only with the greatest difficulty—and often we cannot bring them back at all.

It is a rare American who has no stake and no interest in the out-of-doors and its creatures. In a recent year something like 14 million fishing licenses were sold. Many millions go hunting. Untold numbers go to the streams, the mountains, the seashores and the forests for recreation and restoration of the spirit. Is it not the part of the most elementary wisdom—selfish wisdom—for everyone to help conserve these resources to the limit of his ability?

Carelessness, ignorance, and exploitation are enemies we must fight. Fire, stream pollution, game hogs, the litterbugs who leave trails of trash and filth—these menace the existence of the irreplacable. don't be one of them.

"Someone asked Dr. C. Austin Miles to define the real meaning of a true and dependable friend. His reply was something like this:

If he laughs when you are gay,
If he grieves when you are sad,
If he tolerates your follies without end,
If he makes your way his way,
If his presence makes you glad,
If he knows your faults yet loves you, he's your friend.

LEADER VETOES COUNTRY CLUB LIQUOR BILL

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Leader has vetoed a bill to exempt country clubs from the liquor license quota law.

The governor said the legislation was "based upon a misconception against certain racial groups."

The bill was sponsored by Sen. John H. Dent, Democratic floor leader, on behalf of members of a Perry County country club for Negroes. The club contended it was unable to obtain a liquor license.

Opposes Exemptions
"The present quota provision applies alike to all applicants for licenses regardless of race and when the quota is reached in a particular municipality the Liquor Control Board may not issue any more quota licenses in such municipality," Leader said in his veto message yesterday.

The quota is one license for each 1,000 population. Hotel licenses are not included in the limitation. "In addition," said Leader, "I am opposed to exempting any additional types of licenses from the quota provisions of the liquor code."

PORTUGAL AIMS AT UNION WAGES FOR SERVANTS

LISBON (AP)—Union wages and rules for maidservants. This is the latest plan of Corporations Minister Dr. Vieira de Macedo. It is a revolution which is likely to spell the end of Portugal's old patriarchal system of service, and has already caused alarm and despair in the hearts of housewives.

For, apart from low wages, Portugal has been for years and still remains the paradise for servants (and for housewives).

For the sum of 25 to 30 escudos a day (between 75 cents and a dollar) you can get a daily scrubwoman who will do all your cleaning, and often your marketing and laundry in the bargain.

Many Applicants
For 300 to 400 escudos a month (9 to 12 dollars) you can get a living-in maid and for very little more an expert cook. And there is at the moment no lack of applicants when anyone puts an advertisement in the papers.

Relationship between mistress and maid hitherto has remained on a rather feudal footing. The maid has no government scheme at the moment to protect her against illness, unemployment and old age; but it is taken for granted that the family she works with will look after that. The old Portuguese families nearly all support one or more "old pensioners" on their monthly budget.

Progress, however, is nibbling at the system. Under the new implementation of the Cooperative System here, a Housemaid's Syndicate is planned. This will mean minimum wages, proper contracts and other advantages.

Going Abroad
At the same time there is a "gold rush" of Portuguese girls for service in houses abroad—particularly England, where they must be paid a weekly minimum wage of two pounds—about 7 dollars.

Since supply is short of demand, they may get four or five pounds a week.

Even at home the increasing influx of resident Americans has begun to push wage prices up for domestic service. A "special race" of servants already is growing up who wish to work only in wealthy foreign households, where lack of the old paternal attitude to staff is to them more than compensated by extra-high wages and complete liberty.

PLASTICS MAKE HOMEWORK EASY

By DOROTHY ROE
The Associated Press

If grandma could step into a modern home, she'd never know what to do with all her spare time, for nowadays housework is a breeze.

No more cleaning dusty drapes, beating carpets on the clothesline, repapering the living room after a winter of smoky fires. Modern plastic fabrics and labor-saving appliances have changed all that. A whisk of a damp sponge cleans today's drapes, upholstery and even wall coverings. New vacuum cleaners keep rugs dust-free. New non-mar table surfaces keep furniture looking always shining and new.

It is only in the last few years that plastic fabrics have come of age. They have been familiar in the kitchen and bathroom for a long time, but now they step out into the rest of the house, in new and glamorous guise.

Room Settings
Recently members of the American Institute of Decorators designed several room settings demonstrating new and imaginative use of vinyl plastics in upholstery, floors and wall coverings. Notable in the group was a living room designed by Jerome Manshaw and Jean Daggett, using a basic color scheme of gold and white, with accents of flame red and black.

Walls and ceiling were covered in gold vinyl fabric, with an unusual pattern creating the illusion of a textured surface. The gold pattern was repeated in folding doors used as a window wall, opening onto a terrace.

The sofa and chairs were upholstered in white vinyl fabric with fine criss-cross pattern in gold. A stool and occasional chair were upholstered in black vinyl, and a desk chair was used as a spot of dramatic contrast with upholstery in flame red velvet.

WILL DECIDE ON NEWS FILMS IN "CLINTON" TRIAL

By RELMAN MORIN

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — U.S. district Judge Robert L. Taylor was studying three newsreel films today, preparatory to deciding whether the government may use them in the trial of the "Clinton 15" and John Kasper, fiery New Jersey segregationist.

Not all of what the films contain has been disclosed. But it appeared that defense attorneys were fighting hard to keep the all-white jury from seeing them. By agreement, they said, lawyers on both sides declined to discuss this point.

Taylor saw the newsreels in his chambers after yesterday's session of the trial — the last until Monday — ended. Attorneys were closeted with him more than an hour.

To Rule Later

When they came out, they said only that the judge would rule on the admissibility of the pictures "at a subsequent date."

Riots flared in Clinton, a pleasant little town near Knoxville, when Negro students were admitted to the high school last autumn. National guardsmen, tanks, and state police were called to restore order.

Whether the newsreels show scenes of this is not known. Some of the pictures were made when Kasper was tried and convicted of contempt of court.

Parade Of Witnesses

The 15 Pennesians, including a 19-year-old housewife who is pregnant, are on trial for criminal contempt, charged with knowingly to 61. The second set was won by James Townsend who defeated Howard Weikert.

The price for the largest doll was won by Louise Harbach; second place by Betty Eyler; third place by Nancy Murdoch. The award for the smallest doll went to Bill Edden; second place, Louise Harbach, and third place, David Edden. Next week's program will include making jewelry boxes from cigar boxes, and a peanut scramble on special events day. George Bechtel craft instruction, reported the making of lanyards from gimp, wrapping bottles with raffia, and soap carving. Next week's program will include gimp bracelet making and the making, painting and finishing of small cutting boards.

Weekly attendance reports included: Keefer field, 348; Fourth St., 160; East Stevens, 121; college, 28; Recreation Park, nine-year-old on up, 373; Recreation Park, five to 12 age group, 365; Recreation Park evening and tennis, 282; Arts and crafts, 127; instrumental music, 76.

HOTELS CHANGE NEGRO POLICIES

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Hotel Association of Baltimore announced yesterday its members had approved a policy of admitting Negro athletes and convention delegates.

The association's members, which include all major hotels in the city, had previously denied accommodations to all Negroes.

A spokesman for the organization said the management of each hotel would decide whether to accept the policy.

violating Taylor's injunction against interference with the desegregating of the high school in Clinton. The trial has lasted a full week and the end is nowhere in sight. In the latest session, U.S. district Atty. John C. Crawford established one of the government's contentions and called a parade of witnesses to fix the other. These were:

Tell Of "Direct Notice"

1. Testimony that Clyde Cook, free on $10,000 bail, read Taylor's hands-off injunction in the office of County Sheriff Glad Woodward. "He came down to the office and I gave him a copy of the injunction to read," the sheriff testified. This, in legal language, is "direct notice," as differentiated from published and broadcast reports of the injunction. The government must prove that the defendants knowingly flouted Taylor's order.

2. The most important part of the government's charge is that the 15 "acted in concert" with Kasper before the Clinton violence. Working to show this, Crawford got into evidence a photostatic copy of the charter of the Tennessee White Citizens' Council, of which Kasper was a signer.

Wedding

Markle-Becker

Miss Jo Ann M. Becker, daughter of Mrs. Charles Becker, New Oxford R. 1, and the late Charles Becker, was married to Ronald Lee Markle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence O. The bride wore a chapel length, white, Chantilly lace gown with a satin underskirt and princess style waist line. Chiffon bordered the neckline and ended in long streamers down the back. Her headpiece was a Juliet cap adorned with pearls and sequins and an elbow length veil. She carried white baby rosebuds and baby's-breath on a white prayer book. White streamers with red roses flowed from the bouquet.

Four Attendants

The bridesmaids were: Miss Wanda Morelock and Miss Donna Morelock, Littlestown, cousins of the groom; Miss Lillian L. Their dresses were similar to that of the maid-of-honor, in pastel shades, with matching picture hats and mitts. They also carried colonial bouquets.

Donald Becker, New Oxford, R. 1, brother of the bride, was the best man and the ushers were: Larry Markle, Middleburg, Md., brother of the groom; and John Becker, New Oxford R. 1, brother of the bride.

The flower girls were: Cathy Hartland, Silver Run, Md.; and Marie Becker, New Oxford R. 1, sister of the bride. They wore yellow dresses and matching yellow bonnets and carried miniature nosegays.

The ring bearer was Timmy Markle, Taneytown R. 2, brother of the groom.

Reception Is Held

The church was decorated with white gladioli, palms, and pink carnations. The organist was Miss Marie Noel.

A reception was held at the New Oxford Fire Hall after which the couple left on a trip through Virginia. In September the couple will reside in San Jose, Calif.

The bride wore as her going away ensemble a mint green dress with white accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Delone Catholic High School and is employed by the Windsor Shoe Co. of Littlestown. The groom graduated from Taneytown High School and is stationed with the Navy in California.

CHRISTMAS IN JULY

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (AP) — The Parks School program was right on schedule when six 8th graders were graduated in August ceremonies.

Because of heavy snow conditions encountered in winter months the school year extends over the spring and summer months. The "Christmas vacation" comes in July.

Tune In WGET, 1450 On Your Dial
Rayburn told reporters it came in the face of administration contentions the 1958 budget could not be cut, and indicated apparent plans to ask Congress for billions of dollars more than it plans to spend.

Rep. Cannon (D-Mo), chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, told reporters "this committee is not going to recommend more money" than President Eisenhower plans to spend "and then allow him to impound it." Cannon accused the administration of "duplicitous."

The row, which threatened the administration's foreign aid and other programs, also launched Democratic moves to head off what they hinted is a Republican attempt to get credit for tax reductions next year.

Storm Blows Up
The storm blew up yesterday after published reports that Budget Director Percival M. Brundage, at the "request" of the President, had directed federal officials to hold 1958 spending at the 1957 level, about 70 billion dollars.

The House Appropriations Committee has virtually completed action on Eisenhower's budget request for $73,300,000,000 in new appropriations. Budget estimates of actual spending for the 1958 fiscal year totaled $71,800,000,000. Cannon said administration witnesses asked his committee yesterday for 1958 appropriations for the Atomic Energy Commission amounting to more than half a billion dollars above those for 1957.

"Most Amazing"
"When we questioned them, they acknowledged they had been told not to spend more than they did in 1957," Cannon said, adding: "It amounted to duplicity. It's the most astounding thing I've ever heard."

The uproar was touched off by House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) who charged the order was "the most amazing thing I ever heard."

Nelson Buisac, president of the Lord Baltimore, said association members "felt we had to go along with the way the public felt." The Lord Baltimore is where six of the seven American League baseball teams stay when visiting Baltimore.

The New York Yankees stay at the Hotel Emerson, whose officials said they would admit Negro athletes but the question of convention delegates would be "discussed when it arises."

New Calling

Brig. Gen. Lester J. Maitland, shown above in a picture taken a few months ago, was to be ordained into the priesthood of the Episcopal Church at Iron River, Mich., Friday. The 58-year-old flier won many combat decorations during World War II. He said one of the factors that led him to the new career was the development of nuclear weapons. He formerly was Michigan state director of Civil Defense. (AP Wirephoto) sister of the groom, was the bridesmaid.

The best man was Vincent P. Staub, McSherrystown, and the ushers were: Marlin W. Chronister, East Berlin R. 2, brother of the bride, and Thomas Smith, McSherrystown, brother of the groom.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Chronister, wore a navy blue dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The church was decorated with palms, salmon colored gladioli and white pompons. The organist was Mrs. Bernard B. Henry. The children's choir with Miss Angela Lawrence, soloist, sang.

Reception Is Held

The reception was held at the Knights of Columbus hall, McSherrystown, after which the couple left for a week's honeymoon. Upon their return they will reside at 358 Main St., McSherrystown.

The bride, a graduate of East Berlin High School in 1953, was employed as a clerk at Lau's Cut-Rate Store in East Berlin.

The groom, a graduate of Delone Catholic High School in 1953, obtained his Bachelor of Arts degree at King's College, Wilkes-Barre. At present he is employed by P. X. Smith's Sons Co., McSherrystown.

Out-of-town guests were from Glen Olden, Pa.; New York City, N. Y.; Salem, N. J.; and Hazleton, Pa.

Marvelous Molly May Make Metals Tougher

NEW YORK (AP)—Molly, a Cinderella element found 50 years ago in the Colorado Rockies, may provide aircraft designers with the metal battering ram needed to crash through the "heat barrier"—the greatest of the obstacles now blocking man's progress in the skies.

Steelways, official publication of American Iron and Steel Institute, says that the element molybdenum, nicknamed Molly, who properly coated to resist oxidation, has the ability to retain tremendous strength at the searing temperatures that come with supersonic nction with Friday's test. Under actual conditions the wardens would see that all within their areas reached a place of safety and then themselves take cover for protection from possible injury.

When the alert ending the 12-minute public participation drill came at 2 o'clock, county and state CD headquarters began a "command post exercise" that continued here until 5 o'clock.

At 3:10 o'clock the county CD headquarters at the engine house was asked whether arrangements could be made to provide hospital beds for injured. A quick check brought answer that Gettysburg College could provide 500 beds for wounded.

Bombing Reports

At about 3:15 word came that a 100 kiloton bomb had fallen at Pittsburgh. A later message had the Walt Whitman bridge blasted out of existence at Philadelphia.

A request came from state CD headquarters for transportation. Edward Shields, serving as liaison man for the state employment service office at the CD headquarters, called his unit. Within 15 minutes they reported back that telephone calls to various parts of the county showed 43 pick-up trucks, 28 tractor trailers, five tractors, 20 buses and 13 railroad cars were available for instant use if needed.

Mrs. George A. Miller and Mrs. John Diehl represented the county Civil Defense Welfare group at the county CD headquarters. Harry Fasicik, York Springs and Cecil Ledard, Table Rock Rd., a former Pittsburgh Civil Defense official, aided CD Director William G. Weaver at the engine house headquarters. Charles Kranias operated a message system by short wave radio.

At fire engine houses throughout the county numerous firemen were on duty throughout the morning and afternoon for the CD test. John Murren, Hanover R. 4, CD fire chief for the county patrolled the roads in a radio equipped car. He was called in when a person traveling to work, caught by the take cover signal reported to headquarters and it was decided to aid the person through the county's system. She made it to work in another end of the county only five minutes late.

One other emergency trip was granted to a person going through Gettysburg to the Hospital.

Weaver expressed his praise to the people of the county "for the excellent manner in which the general public and the Civil Defense workers cooperated. We can be proud of our county. We can also feel fairly confident that if any emergency ever develops, Adams County will do a good job."

plus speeds.

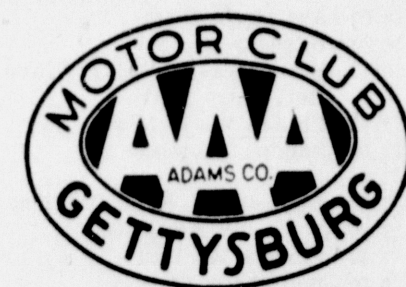

Using the alloying element, designers hope to overcome the heat problems that at some speeds and altitudes cause materials in today's planes to fuse or pull apart.

Steelways says the resistant quality of Molly—it does not melt at temperatures as high as 4,750 degrees Fahrenheit—is only one of its many virtues. The element also allows steelmakers to make extremely hard steel with sacrificing toughness and minimizes the threat of stresses or cracks during fabrication and heat treating.

TEN YEARS AGO

New County Jail Will Cost $134,787; Commissioners Give Contract To E. L. Cump; Adams County's new jail will cost $134,787.

Contracts totaling that amount will be awarded, subject to the approval of the court, to four contractors, the Adams County commissioners decided this morning.

The figure was approximately $1,100 less than the bids given the commissioners on March 26.

Earl L. Cump, Chambersburg, was awarded the general contract on his low bid of $107,495. Cump's bid was also the lowest in March when he asked $109,753.

Hospital Short Of Nurses; Training Course Planned; Seek Aides On Paid Basis: The board of directors of the Annie M. Warner Hospital has tentatively adopted two plans to relieve the acute shortage of nurses at the hospital.

A training course for practical nurses will be set up at the hospital through the employment of a trained nurse to act as instructor and recruitment of high school graduates for a one-year course leading to a certificate and qualification as practical nurses.

The hospital also hopes to put into effect immediately the recruitment of nurses' aides to assist the regular duty, registered nurses at the hospital on a paid basis.

Appoint Assistant At County Library: Miss Dorothy Wehler, New Oxford, has been appointed full time assistant at the Adams County Free Library, Miss Kathryn Ober, librarian, announced today.

Disc Parade Has Nation's Neck's Way Out: (By The Associated Press) America's "flying saucer" jag reeled on today. Stiff necks and goggle eyes were the order of the day. Sky watching was a new profession.

North Carolina joined the disc parade.

For the first time the discs were reported whirling through the atmosphere over Asheville in western North Carolina and over Greensboro and Raleigh in the north central portion.

Tabulators quickly figured forty-one states had joined the disc brigade since the objects were first reported June 25.

Visitors To Gettysburg Criticize Town's Failure To Observe Anniversary: Numerous tourists and visitors to Gettysburg from July 1 through July 4 expressed disappointment that there were no commemorative activities held here on the 84th anniversary of the three-day battle or the 171st anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, a survey of business establishments in Gettysburg reveals.

While some merchants, restaurant owners and others who come into contact with the visiting public said they had not received any complaints, others reported that "the tourists did nothing but complain because we had nothing."

Legion Plans Celebration For V-J Day: Preliminary plans for a V-J Day Celebration for veterans and their ladies probably in the form of a dance, were announced Monday evening at the regular meeting of the Albert J. Lentz post of the American Legion.

Nine new members were accepted by the post, bringing its total number of members to 1,251.

Six members were presented with certificates for having been members in good standing for 25 years. They were Howard J. Hartzell, Gettysburg R. 5; Clarence Bumbaugh, Gettysburg R. 5; Carl S. ## Today's Talk

BEHIND THE STARS

There is much about this world that will never be revealed. Take, for example, a brilliant, starry night. What is beyond the stars? We have only penetrated the silvery surface of the universe. What is happening in that mysterious beyond? We shall probably never know even in imagination. We do know that wherever there are order and beauty there may be found the voice and presence of the Creator!

We live in a world so stupendous that we take it all as a matter of course. We shouldn't. We should look upon it all in wonder and listen for any message that has within it a call to the heart. Worlds and worlds, stars by the billion, but what is beyond all these creations? It is beyond our understanding. Perhaps some day the huge curtains of the universe will part a little and give us a little light. Who can say?

Some one, or Power started the world, and all other worlds and stars. Things didn't just happen. What adds to our faith is the fact that there are order, plan and purpose to the heavens. Even the great telescopes show wonders that amaze us. Astronomers are God-fearing men. They have experimented sufficiently to know that there is a God, and that He is forever busy. He couldn't just start things and then go away and let things work their own way out. Events move orderly and the details mesh like silk in a fine fabric.

This world was created for every form of life, including human beings as the greatest of all. But man is so small against the background of mystery and natural laws. God certainly is in His heaven challenging our beliefs. How can we fail to bow reverently to His will and purpose?

Just Folks

THE SPIRIT
That inner-dwelling spirit shares the body's every pain. It responds to all that bruises though unseen it must remain.

It's the hidden source of courage for whatever has to be. While the flesh displays the bandage following every injury.

The body may not show it when the spirit has been hurt. But there are ways to know it, are both ear and eye alert: The voice will drop a little and be sadder for awhile. And there'll be something missing from the old familiar smile.

The spirit may not whimper as the flesh is apt to do. It will ache without complaining and its anguish hide from view. The body loudly grumbles when some hopes have gone astray. But the disappointed spirit bravely suffers, come what may.

SCOUTS HEAR NIXON TALK ON "BROTHERHOOD"

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (AP)—Vice President Nixon, taking note of the Boy Scout theme of brotherhood, said any civil rights law passed by Congress "won't be worth the paper it is written on" unless the people themselves enforce it.

Nixon last night addressed 50,000 scouts and 20,000 visitors massed in a big arena for the gala opening pageant of the fourth national jamboree.

Nixon said that "Scouting means recognition of the equal dignity of every individual in this country regardless of his race or creed or his color."

Any civil rights law, if passed, Nixon said, would prove futile "unless there is the will on the part of the people of the nation to obey that law and that will must come from the people themselves."

President Eisenhower was unable to attend but sent a message. He is honorary head of the organization.

Before the pageantry, the speeches and the fireworks—the closing dazzling display of ear-splitting bombs and multi-colored flashes of fire—Nixon toured the 1,500-acre encampment in a convertible.

Sentencing Of Two Miners Is Delayed

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Sentencing of two coal mine operators has been delayed pending action on a motion filed by them in the Pennsylvania Supreme Court.

The men, Aurelio Cano and Charles Martin, both of Minersville, were convicted of negligence in connection with the drowning of five miners when water broke through from an old working on March 27, 1952.

Schuylkill County Judge Vincent J. Dalton received a request from the Supreme Court prothonotary to delay sentencing yesterday after the two men had made their appearance in court. Exact nature of the motion was not learned immediately.

JUDGE MOVES TO SPEED UP HOFFA'S TRIAL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal District Judge Burnita S. Matthews has moved to speed the conspiracy-bribery trial of Midwest Teamsters boss James R. Hoffa.

The trial was in recess today, but Judge Matthews said Saturday sessions will be scheduled from now "until we finish it."

No reason for the speedup was announced, but presumably one factor is that the 15 jurors—12 regulars and three alternates—are locked up when the trial is not in session.

Hear 4 FBI Men

Four FBI agents appeared yesterday to back up testimony of the government's key witness, John Cye Cheasty, that he acted as a "spy" for Hoffa while actually working in behalf of the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee.

Three of the agents testified they overheard Cheasty talking on the phone to Hoffa and Hyman I. Fischbach, Miami attorney, on various occasions. But the agents insisted that no recording devices of any kind were used and that they could not hear what was said at the other end of the line.

Hoffa's attorney, Edward Bennett Williams, complained at one point that Judge Matthews "foreclosed" him from asking questions as to whether other agents might have tapped wires.

"You are not being foreclosed," said the judge, her voice rising. "If you have any means of showing wiretapping in this case you are at liberty to do it."

TURNPIKE CASE MAY GO TO JURY LATE NEXT WEEK

HARRISBURG (AP)—Judge Homer L. Kreider today held out hope that the turnpike conspiracy trial might go to the jury late next week.

The jurist made the statement in open court yesterday, saying: "From information I got from counsel, I have reason to believe we are now in the middle of the fourth quarter of testimony and it will be concluded next week."

Today's half-day session will close the sixth week of the trial of nine men charged with conspiring to defraud the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission of 19½ million dollars.

Yesterday Clayton A. Landside, former general manager and vice president of Manu-Mine Research and Development Co., said he knew nothing of most financial operations of the firm.

"An Operation Man"
Landside, 40-year-old registered engineer, told the court he was "strictly an operations man. It was my job to get the work done."

"Didn't you know the profits were substantial after you received a $26,000 bonus in 1955?" asked Dep. Atty. Gen. Vincent G. Panati.

"Well, what do you mean by substantial?" he asked.

Panati countered with "just that."

"I knew the company was making money," Landside replied.

He said he did not particularly associate the bonus with contracts the firm held with the turnpike commission. He said one of his assistants received a $14,000 bonus with contracts the firm held with the turnpike commission. He said one of his assistants received a $14,000 bonus the same year and that the assistant was working on other Manu-Mine contracts.

Manu-Mine was hired to fill subsurface mine voids beneath part of the right-of-way of the northeast extension to the toll road.

Landside denied he had any knowledge of:

How Manu-Mine arrived at a price of $12.50 a foot for drilling holes to reach the voids with fill.

How much profit the company made from contracts with the Turnpike Commission.

How the company gained a contract at $12,350 to patrol the extension right-of-way.

Who set a price of $19,250 a month for exploratory drilling.

How much drilling Manu-Mine planned to fill the voids.

"I was just an operations man—strictly an operations man," Landside declared. "It was my job to get the work done."

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—A plan for the reorganization of the bankrupt Northeastern Steel Corp. of Bridgeport is going to the Securities and Exchange Commission at Washington.

Under the proposal, the Carpenter Steel Co. of Reading, Pa., will take over Northeastern at a price which will wipe out present stock investments originally valued at 4 million dollars.

U. S. District Judge Robert P. Anderson made the ruling last night at the conclusion of a five-day hearing. He ordered the plan forwarded to SEC for an advisory report to be filed by Aug. 27.

Following the SEC scrutiny, the report will be discussed in the Dis-

3-Run Homer By Simpson Wins For Yankees Over A's; Phillies Bow To Cubs; Cards Beat Giants

By ED WILKS

Unimaginative bunch these New York Yankees. They change a few names in the cast every now and then, even get into a bit of a scramble for the American League lead once in awhile—but day by day, year by year it's the same old stuff.

Take today, July 13. They've played 79 games, stand 53-26, have won six in a row, lead by four games and have lost only four of their last 28 games.

On July 13, 1956, they had played 79 games, stood 53-26, had won six in a row, led by 7½ and had lost six of their last 28.

Longest Lead Of Season Casey Stengel's AL chiller made it 14 in a row (13 this year) over Kansas City last night with a 4-2 victory on a three-run homer by Harry Simpson, late of the A's. That gave the Yankees their largest lead of the season, with Chicago's second place White Sox idled by rain.

Baltimore dipped back to sixth place, losing 8-6 at Cleveland as the Indians gained a share of fourth place with Detroit. The Tigers defeated Boston 5-3 with Jim Bunning winning his 11th despite a pair of home runs by Ted Williams.

In the National League, St. Louis retained a two-game lead as Sam Jones two-hit New York's Giants 5-1. Milwaukee regained second place, beating Pittsburgh 5-4 after Philadelphia slipped to third, three games shy, with a 5-2 defeat by the last-place Chicago Cubs. Brooklyn, despite only four hits, took fourth place from Cincinnati, slapping a seventh successive defeat on the Redlegs 3-1—with none of the fistcuffs which sparked Thursday night's meeting.

24th For Mickey Simpson delivered his payoff sock last night against Ralph Terry—the young righthander traded by the Yanks in the June 15 deal that shifted Simpson to New York.

Mickey Mantle's 24th homer and Vic Power's ninth had left it tied 1-1 for Simpson's blast. Don Larson was the winner.

Rookie Dick Brown, Rocky Colavito and Gene Woodling hammered two-run homers for the Indians. Mike Garcia won it in relief after the Orioles blew a 6-0 lead to end their one-day stay in the first division.

3 RBIs For Ted Bunning gave up successive homers to Williams in the first and third innings. Williams' 21st and 22nd homers were good for all three Red Sox runs.

The Cards backed up Jones' stuff with home runs by Stan Musial, Al Dark and Don Blasingame. Jones lost a no-hitter when Whitey Lockman singled in the sixth, then gave up his shutout when Willie Mays homered with two out in the ninth. Jones, now 7-3, and Ruben Gomez, 10-8 with the defeat, were warned about beanballs after throwing "dusters" at each other, but afterward said they were good friends and it was all good clean fun.

Hank Aaron belted his 38th home run, tops in the majors, and Johnny Logan, subbing for injured shortstop Felix Mantilla, hit his second in two nights for the Braves. Don McMahon hustled in to get the final two outs and save Warren Spahn's ninth victory as the Bucs scored twice in the ninth. Elroy face lost in relief.

6th In Row For Roberts Robin Roberts, the Phil's veteran winner, lost his sixth in a row for the first time in the majors, giving up all the Cub runs in three homers for a total of 26 gopher balls and a 6-12 record. Jerry Kindall homered twice, but it was Ernie Banks' two-run shot in the eighth that overhauled a 2-1 Phil lead for reliever Jim Brosnan's first victory.

The Brooks had only two hits and a 1-1 tie against Johnny Klippstein until the eighth, when Gino Cimoli tagged a 3-0 pitch for a two-run triple. Don Newcombe won his fifth in a row for a 9-6 record. Klippstein, 3-9, fanned 10.

Czech Smashes World Mark On 1,500 Meters VIENNA (AP)—Stanislav Jungwirth, who smashed the world record in the 1,500 meters with a 3:38.1 yesterday, is expected to go after the mile record of 3:58 next Friday night in London's White City Stadium. Track experts considered his 3:38.1 in the 1,500 meters equivalent to 3:55.1.

Jungwirth, a Czech, turned in his tremendous 1,500 on the Houstka track near Prague. The Czechoslovak News Agency CTK reported his partial times, as 54.9 for the 400 meters, 1:54.2 for 800 meters, 2:24.5 for 1,000 meters and 2:43.4 for 1,200 meters.

The listed world record for the 1,500 meters is 3:49.6 by Istvan Rozsavolgyi of Hungary. Only Thursday in Finland. Oavi Salsola did 3:40.2.

Tickets On Sale

For Eastern Open

BALTIMORE—Tickets for the $20,000 Eastern Open golf tournament to be played here July 25-28 are now on sale.

Opening of the ticket drive marked a new ticket policy for the Eastern Open on the golf circuit. Single tickets will be sold at $1 for each day of the event, according to James I. Brown, ticket chairman.

This is a departure from the usual ticket "books" and the increasing price ranges as play went into the last two days.

Brown said the flat rate of $1 for daily admission was set by the tournament officials to bring golf of championship caliber within reach of a wider public.

Tickets can be obtained by mail by sending a prepaid order to the Junior Association of Commerce office, 22 Light Street, Baltimore 2. Md. Gate sales will open at Mount Pleasant golf course, scene of the Eastern Open, the second day of Tournament Week, July 23, and continue throughout the event.

This year's Eastern Open—with Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa. as defending champion—is under the co-sponsorship of the City of Baltimore and the JAC.

Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dave Mann had Eastern League baseball fans wondering whether they were attending a track meet at Schenectady last night.

The Reading centerfielder raced for his 15th triple of the season, three stolen bases and three singles. He led the Indians to a 7-4 victory over the Schenectady Blue Jays that cut to two games the margin between first and third place.

The third-place Indians broke out with a six-run first-inning upsurge that was enough to assure their victory over the league leaders.

Chiefs Go Lower

The second-place Binghamton Triplets assaulted three Albany pitchers with 11 hits at Binghamton for a 10-2 victory that cut the Blue Jays' margin over them to just one game.

The tail-end Syracuse Chiefs, who may never return to Syracuse, plunged deeper into the league cellar by dropping a 3-2 decision to the Giants at Springfield. The Giants won on a two-run ninth-inning rally.

League President Tommy Richardson said at Williamsport, Pa., that the Syracuse franchise might be shifted to Allentown Monday.

If more money isn't forthcoming to keep the club in Syracuse, Richardson said, it will be moved to Allentown or operate as a road club. Either the league or Joe Buzas of Alpha, N.J., a former big league player, would operate the Chiefs if they move to Allentown.

BAYER IN LEAD AT KITCHENER

KITCHENER, Ont. (AP)—Mammoth George Bayer, who has kicked away a handful of tournament victories by last-minute blunders, carried a three-stroke lead today into the final stages of the $25,000 Canadian Open Golf Tournament.

"If I'm not careful," said the heavy swinger from Los Angeles, "I'm going to develop a second-place complex."

Bayer shot a sizzling 64—breaking the old record by one stroke—in yesterday's third round and held a three-stroke margin over Bill Casper Jr. of Bonita, Calif.

Bayer's three-day total was 202, better than par by 11 strokes.

In the third place here with a 206 total is the man who defeated Bayer in a sudden death Western Open playoff, Doug Ford. Another stroke behind Ford is Joe Conrad, the 1955 British amateur titlist from San Antonio Tex.

TWO COEDS IN GOLF FINALS

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Two attractive coeds—one from the University of Arizona and the other from Penn State—met today in the finals of the 15th annual Women's Invitational golf tournament.

Most of the other 102 entries who have been eliminated picked Judy Bell, 20-year-old veteran of eight previous tournaments at the broadmoor course here, to defeat slender Ann Rutherford, Penn State senior, in the 36-hole tournament.

The 21-year-old Miss Rutherford, daughter of a Carlisle, Pa., country club pro, won the featured semifinals match yesterday, scoring a 4 and 2 victory over Natasha Matson of Wichita, Kan.

Miss Bell, also of Wichita, defeated Mrs. Grant Messenger of Denton, Tex., 4 and 3.

Miss Rutherford made good use of short irons to overcome longer drives by Miss Matson, the Kansas State women's champion.

Reynolds Was Tough For Mickey Mantle

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Mickey Mantle, star slugger of the New York Yankees, says one of his former teammates was the toughest pitcher he ever hit against.

Greatest Night For Lou Skizas

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Lou Skizas, third baseman for the Kansas City Athletics, had his greatest night at the plate in a 1951 game at Richmond, Va., in the Piedmont League game "He was playing with Norfolk, Va., then a Yankee farm team."

"I hit three home runs and a double and drove in all runs that night as Norfolk beat Richmond's Colts, 8-0. Never in my brief career have I enjoyed such a night," says Skizas.

Many Elements Enter Into Plans For Irrigation Systems County Agent Zettle Says

By FRANK S. ZETTEL
Adams County Farm Agent

Every year when the weather gets dry, a few farmers buy irrigation systems on the spur of the moment, to try to save a crop. But irrigation alone is not a cure for poor farm management. The investment for irrigation runs from $7 to $150 per acre in equipment alone. To justify this investment, you'd have to increase your yields from 50 to 100 per cent on certain crops. And the right number of plants and fertilizer and lime required to grow the crop to maturity. It's useless to irrigate, moreover, if you don't control weeds, diseases, and insects and harvest the crop at the very peak of its production and marketability.

The most natural resource for irrigation is an adequate water supply. It takes over 27,000 gallons of water to put just one inch on an acre, or a quarter of a million gallons for a ten acre field, at just one time.

Here's another important item. Every farm is different. Your farm would need a different irrigation system from the farm next door. The proper design of an irrigation system, and the proper selection of equipment often determines whether it's a money-making or money-losing system. Leave it to the experts to plan your irrigation system for you.

If not pruned, old canes compete with the new ones for moisture and soil nutrients.

Seeding a cover crop, such as millet or sudan grass for raspberries, between the rows is advisable. Millet, oats or sudan grass may be used also but keep the seed out of the rows to avoid an extra hand weeding job in the spring. When old canes are removed prepare for seeding by thorough, but shallow, cultivation.

Apply 200 pounds per acre of superphosphate or a mixed fertilizer such as a 5-10-5 to encourage growth of the cover.

Plan For August

August or summer seedings can be successful, or complete failures depending on the weather and how they are planted. The following procedure is suggested to help reduce the hazards of a summer seeding:

1. Have a complete soil test made because acid soil and low fertility has caused many summer seeding failures. The extension office will supply soil test mailing containers. Each complete soil test will cost $1.

2. Prepare a good firm seedbed, and prepare it well in advance, preferably immediately after the small grain is removed. Several diskings are generally preferable to plowing, since diskings tends to conserve subsoil moisture.

3. If the ground is very dry, it is best to wait for a rain and then seed as soon after as possible.

4. Don't plant too late. In Adams County August 20 is about right.

5. Do not use a nurse crop.

6. Lime and fertilize according to complete soil test recommendations.

7. Always use the band seeding method unless you have access to a cultipacker type seeder.

8. If band seeded, be sure to follow by cultipacking in the same direction the drill traveled.

DITHANE

... difference between fancy and cider apples

This zineb fungicide when used in late cover sprays is often the difference between run-of-the-mill and profitable, fine-finish fruit. That's why DITHANE Z-78 is recommended by Experiment Stations, preferred by growers in areas where rust, scab, and summer diseases are a problem.

Use DITHANE Z-78 in your late cover sprays and see how well it blocks the spread of diseases, shields apples from new infections, gives the fruit long-lasting protection. This last advantage is important; with DITHANE Z-78 in your late summer sprays your fruit can remain disease-free up to picking time and beyond. The reason is that the protective film of DITHANE Z-78 remains chemically intact a remarkably long time.

Use DITHANE Z-78 against rust, sooty blotch, Brooks spot, apple blotch, fly speck, black, Botryosphaeria, and bitter rots, and late season scab.

MEAT, POULTRY PRICES INCREASE

A sharp increase in prices received by Pennsylvania farmers for meat animals and a smaller increase in poultry products receipts more than offset the lower milk and field crop prices for the month ended June 15, the State Department of Agriculture reported today.

The Pennsylvania index of prices remained at 230 per cent of the 1910-14 average, unchanged from a month earlier. The national index was 244 per cent, one point higher than on May 15.

A gain of seven points in meat prices from mid-May to mid-June held the Pennsylvania index steady. Beef cattle and hog prices both showed up well for the month. Beef cattle averaged $15.90 per hundred pounds live weight, the highest since June 1953. Hogs averaged $19.20 per hundred pounds, the highest since July, 1955.

As hay prospects looked favorable, hay prices went down an average of 80 cents a ton, but dairy products took the biggest dip at four points because of the seasonal increase in milk output. Milk production during the month of May was 675 million pounds, the largest for any month on record.

Pig Production Lowest In Years

The 1957 spring pig crop in Pennsylvania was 12 per cent less than a year earlier and the smallest since 1941, according to Federal-State surveys announced today by the State Department of Agriculture.

The 468,000 pigs saved in the six-month period ending May 31 compares with 530,000 for the same period of 1956. The 10-year average for Pennsylvania is 545,000 head. Sows farrowing this fall are expected to number 52,000 or 12 per cent under the 1956 total.

Nationally, the spring pig crop totaled 53 million head, about the same as the 1956 crop. Fall farrowing intentions point to a two per cent increase over the fall of 1956.

Trend Toward Bigness In Agriculture Will Continue

Today's trend towards "bigness" in agriculture—"larger-than-family farms"—will continue, according to a study made by Agricultural Extension Service, Pennsylvania State University.

However, a detailed report, prepared by Fred R. Robertson and George E. Bradow, states:

Except perhaps in poultry, the family farm will continue to be the most important type of operation in Pennsylvania agriculture. But the family farms will be larger than at present, and "twilight zone" cases, between family and larger farms, will be more numerous.

Prospective Trends

In giving a long look at the much discussed status of the family farm, the survey gives attention to past, present and future, and makes several other points in prospective trends of interest to all farmers and agricultural leaders. These are:

1. The inadequate business unit has little chance of producing an acceptable living level for the operating family unless the business size is increased.

2. A rapid decrease in the number of inadequate family farms will be seen in the next ten years if industry remains prosperous and non-farm jobs are plentiful.

3. A decrease also will be noted in the number of part-time and residential farms, but these units still have an important place in society and will not leave the picture.

4. An increase will be shown in the size of business required to transform an inadequate farm into an adequate business unit.

5. Consolidation of small units will increase the number of adequate business units, but consolidation of adequate units will see the minimum size for such a unit rise.

6. Large-than-family farms are just a fraction of today's adequate business units, but one-fourth of total sales from these adequate business units come from larger-than-family farms.

7. The larger-than-family farms likely will become more important in the areas and types of farming where they now have good footholds. Larger operations and "vertical integration" should become more important in poultry farming.

8. The increase in the relative importance of full and part owners, and the decrease in the percentage of tenants, share croppers and farm managers has represented a distinct gain in farmers' opportunity to make their own farming decision.

Classify Pa. Farms

The adequate business unit, it is stated, is one that is big enough to provide full-time productive work for a family when modern farming methods are used. The inadequate farm is one which depends mainly on farming for an income, but produces very little.

Classification of Pennsylvania farms, according to 1954 figures, shows:

Adequate business units, $5,000 or more sales—29.1 per cent of farms and 78.5 per cent of sales value.

Borderline cases, $2,500 to $4,999 sales—15.9 per cent of farms and 12.4 per cent of sales value.

Inadequate business units, $250 to $2,499 sales—18.9 per cent of farms and 5.9 per cent of sales value.

Part-time and residential farms, less than $1,200 sales—36 per cent of farms and 2.3 per cent of sales value.

Public and institutional—0.1 per cent of farms and 0.9 per cent of sales value.

"Points are crystal clear," the report declares. "The number of farms and the farm population are declining—and this has been going on for a long time. . . . The size of the farm has increased. . . . The size of the farm that a family can handle has increased as mechanization and other factors have raised labor efficiency."

Consolidation Cited

A need for consolidation of small farms to bring more inadequate business units into the adequate business unit category is cited in the report.

The report also states:

"If the number of farms in the nation is held at the present level of about 5 million it must be justified by non-economic considerations. This would mean that families remaining on farms of an un-economic size might be able to earn enough to lift their standard of living a little above its present level, but they would not be realizing the level of living which they could afford if their labor were used to its full capability."

ALLADIN WAS HERE

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Con-ald W. Wray wasn't too mad about the theft from his home of a lamp he had fashioned out of an old jug. What did make him mad, he told city police, was that $250 he kept hidden in the jug was missing, too.

Do's and Don'ts

CONCRETE PATCHING

DO . . . repair a hairline crack in concrete by sweeping out all dust and dirt, wetting it down and brushing in a flowing mixture of portland cement and water.

DO . . . repair a medium crack or opening by undercutting the edges (making the crack wider at the bottom than at the top), removing loose materials, wetting down and filling with a workable mixture of cement, sand and water.

DO . . . repair a large break the same as above except that the patching material should be a workable mixture of cement, sand, gravel and water or a prepared gravel mix.

DO . . . when patching a driveway, use the gravel mix but reinforce it with metal (such as hardware cloth or chicken wire) pressed down about halfway into the mixture.

KRUPA, BAND PLAY HERSHEY

HERSHEY, Pa.—The Gene Krupa Trio, supported by Maynard Ferguson and his orchestra, will provide the music for dancers at Hershey Park's Starlight Ballroom on Saturday evening, July 13.

Krupa took leave from the large dance band field six years ago after his trio won acclaim while appearing with the "Jazz at the Philharmonic" concert series. Meanwhile Krupa and his three sidemen made a series of jazz recordings, topped by "Dark Eyes," which turned out to be one of the best sellers of all time in the record field.

Krupa features Eddie Shu, harmonica and saxophone soloist, who formerly toured with Lionel Hampton and His Orchestra.

Although Ferguson has been only fronting his own band for about a year, his musical experience dates back to 1950, when he was a featured trumpet player with Stan Kenton's 40-piece concert orchestra. While playing with the Kenton outfit, Maynard was voted the nation's outstanding trumpet player.

er for three consecutive years in a magazine poll.

In August of 1956, Ferguson formed a band composed of twelve men to perform at Birdland in New York City. The band met with such popular acclaim that many requests for a coast-to-coast tour followed. Accordingly, he took his group on a series of one-nighters.

The Ringgold Band, of Reading, will play free concerts in the park bandshell on Sunday afternoon and evening. Concerts are scheduled from 2 until 4 and 7 until 9 o'clock.

Kaganovich Called Symbol Of Red Betrayal And Persecution

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Purged Lazar Moiseyevich Kaganovich is a symbol of all in the Soviet political system that appeals the Western mind.

The Soviet history of bloody repression, treachery, betrayal and persecution can be summed up in his career. And now, the crowning irony, he finds himself betrayed by the men who owe him their political lives.

By any moral standards except the Communist, the current party boss, Nikita Khrushchev, and the present Premier, Nikolai Bulganin, should have been eternally grateful to Kaganovich. As iron commissar of the Ukraine, he started Khrushchev on his way to the top. As boss of Moscow, he raised Bulganin out of obscurity.

For years, surviving purge after purge, Kaganovich was the highest-ranking Jew in the Soviet Union and the only one in the top ruling group of the Communist party. But he was a Jew-hating Jew, who concurred in Stalin's persecutions of them.

Yet, for all his excesses in the name of "building socialism," Kaganovich probably did as much for the struggling U.S.S.R. as any Jew's faithful servant, one of the few Old Bolsheviks to survive the master's blood purges. Shrewd, able and hard as nails, he was almost a political carbon copy of his boss.

This correspondent got the impression, watching Kaganovich staggering drunk at a post-Stalin party in Moscow, that he was relieved the dictator was dead—but would retreat not an inch from his own rock-bound Stalinism. His thick-tongued cascade of boasts sounded like editorials lifted directly from the Pravda of Stalin's day.

It was common gossip for a long time that Kaganovich was Stalin's brother-in-law. His sister, the comely Rosa, was said to be Stalin's third wife, though there is some question whether the dictator bothered with the formality of a marriage ceremony. But Kaganovich did not owe his position of power to this. He was and still is an iron man, and probably will remain a man of iron to the end.

Only 5 feet 7, Kaganovich gives one the impression of bulk. He has soft, liquid eyes, but there is nothing soft about him.

He was born of poor parents in a village near Kiev in the Ukraine in 1893. At 14 he was a cobbler's apprentice, at 17 a Bolshevik revolutionary.

Achievement Record

In 1925 he was sent to the Ukraine as party boss there. He built the giant Dneprostroi Dam, the Soviet Union's first big hydro-electric power project. For this he became a member of the ruling Politburo. He also became party boss of Moscow province. Under him was Bulganin, who served as mayor of Moscow.

When Stalin decided on forced collectivization of farms, Kaganovich-plunged into the job. The result was famine in the Ukraine, but by 1933 Kaganovich had crops coming in again and had created a vast chain of collectives and machine-tractor stations.

As commissar for railroads in 1935 he made the trains run on time by a simple solution—invoking the death penalty for interrupted schedules. Stalin then made him commissar for heavy industry as the U.S.S.R. smelled war in the offing. In 1942 he joined the inner war cabinet. In 1945 he was head of the Ministry of Building Materials, accomplishing a huge reconstruction job.

Experienced Trouble Shooter

In 1946 he had to rescue Khrushchev from a tight spot. The Ukraine, where Khrushchev was boss, was in devastation from the war. Inside a year, Kaganovich ruthlessly stamped out seething opposition to Moscow, whipped farming and building into shape, reopened mines, rebuilt the Dnieper Dam. Then he went back to Moscow and let Khrushchev take over again.

In mid-1955, Kaganovich was back at his old specialty—trouble shooter for labor problems. He became head of the Soviet Wages and Labor Committee.

This unconstructed revolutionist clung to his position longer than any of the other original Old Bolsheviks. V. M. Molotov lost the job of foreign minister in June. A week later Kaganovich lost his Wages and Labor job.

The most successful of Soviet industrialists, he is now accused of sabotaging production. The last of Lenin's corevolutionists, he is now accused of being anti-Leninist.
